

I have a wonderful partner that accepts me

I have a wonderful partner that accepts me.

I am blessed to have such an understanding and wonderful partner. An accepting partner is a great advantage to have in the world.

My partner accepts my flaws and frailties. These are some of the things that make me unique and my partner loves me for my flaws.

Having a partner that accepts me allows me to be more accepting of myself. My partner makes it easier for me to appreciate and love myself.

I feel more inspired by my partner each day. My partner lives life at a high level. This inspires me to raise my standards and expect more from myself. I find this challenge to be exhilarating. I want to be at my best for my partner and myself.

Great love is rooted in great partnership. Relationships without great partnership are short-lived. My partner and I continuously work on our relationship. We continuously work on our acceptance of each other.

Having a partner that accepts me gives me the courage I need to conquer the world. I know that I am always supported, whatever the outcome. Being accepted 100% makes my world more secure and exciting. I set bigger goals and believe I can achieve them because of my wonderful partner.

Today, I appreciate my partner. The acceptance I receive is a gift, and I am grateful for it. I am looking forward to more wonderful days with my partner.

Self-Reflection Questions:

1. What can I do to be more accepting of others?
2. Who accepts me? Who does not?
3. Does my partner accept me? Is this a good relationship for me?
